The Massachusetts Historical Commission (MHC) has converted this paper record to digital format as part of ongoing projects to scan records of the Inventory of Historic Assets of the Commonwealth and National Register of Historic Places nominations for Massachusetts. Efforts are ongoing and not all inventory or National Register records related to this resource may be available in digital format at this time.

The MACRIS database and scanned files are highly dynamic; new information is added daily and both database records and related scanned files may be updated as new information is incorporated into MHC files. Users should note that there may be a considerable lag time between the receipt of new or updated records by MHC and the appearance of related information in MACRIS. Users should also note that not all source materials for the MACRIS database are made available as scanned images. Users may consult the records, files and maps available in MHC's public research area at its offices at the State Archives Building, 220 Morrissey Boulevard, Boston, open M-F, 9-5.

Users of this digital material acknowledge that they have read and understood the MACRIS Information and Disclaimer (<http://mhc-macris.net/macrisdisclaimer.htm>)

ARCHITECTURAL DESCRIPTION ☐ see continuation sheet

Describe architectural features. Evaluate the characteristics of this building in terms of other buildings within the community.

Although somewhat altered by the addition of a garage on the facade, #100 Garfield Road is still a good example of a typical early-twentieth-century gardener's cottage. Generally Colonial Revival in style, it has a gambrel roof with three massive ridge chimneys, and a recessed corner gable-end entry. A wide porch shelters a second entry on the south side. The windows are 8-over-1-sash, with flat surrounds, and a long shallow shed-roofed dormer spans the length of the south side of the roof. The house has two parallel rear wings.

HISTORICAL NARRATIVE ☐ see continuation sheet

Discuss the history of the building. Explain its associations with local (or state) history. Include uses of the building, and the role(s) the owners/occupants played within the community.

This house was formerly a gardener's cottage for the Frederick Dumaine house at #153 Garfield Road. It was built behind the Dumaine house on the east side of the road probably in about 1906 when the main house was built. In 1928 Mr. and Mrs. George P. Metcalf bought the Dumaine property, and in about 1940 the gardener's cottage was moved across the street to become a house for their son, Richard Metcalf. He remained here until the mid-1960's.
